

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—Sam Warnack has bought the A. P. Moore property from R. R. Ewell for $450.

—There is a movement on foot by some parties from a distance to start a butter and cheese factory here.

—Mr. George Andes is suffering severely with an abscess on his arm and has been confined to his room some time.

—Lots of game is being killed and brought in for sale daily. The writer bagged a ten-pound turkey hen, Thursday.

—A 14-year-old boy of Mr. Glare, of Pittsburg, had his nose blown off and an eye put out by the premature explosion of some dynamite.

—John Laws spent last week in Frankfort. "Uncle" Henry Hall, 83 years of age, is lying at death's door at his son-in-law's, James Hedrick.

—This is the first real winter we have had for years. All who have ice houses have filled them and the merry sleigh-riders are having a gay time.

—Dr. Givens, of Pittsburg, and McCalla Fitzgerald will open a drug store this month in the room recently vacated by W. C. Pitman, in the Caching Block.

—A son of Wm. McNeil, the bank boss, was probably fatally hurt at Pittsburg Thursday by another boy, who struck him in the back with a coal pick.

—Tom White, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for theft at the last circuit court, received a pardon from Gov. Brown last Saturday and is the happiest negro in the country.

—R. M. Jackson will take petitions out up stairs over Jackson's stores and fit up a hall for exhibitions, &c. The room will be 40x70 and will add to our growing city something badly needed.

—You all know "Smiling Dave" Jackson. Well, he can be heard all over town, with a little more energy in that smile than ever before. His boy arrived Friday and his name will likely be Grover.

—Col. Frank Riley has just returned from Washington City and various points in Kentucky in the interest of his candidacy for the marshaling of Kentucky, and reports his prospects as bright as a summer's sun.

—The following marriage licenses were issued since Dec. 31: W. B. Wade, of Richmond, and Katie B. Nevette, of Elizabethtown; W. G. Ward, of Jackson county, and Elizabeth Watkins, of Laurel; Joe Martin and Nancy V. Carroll; J. E. Woodward and Samantha Wilder; H. M. Dishon and Lizzie A. King.

MCKNEY.

—J. H. Walker arrived from Washington, D. C., Friday. Misses Ella and Belle Johnson, who have been spending the holidays with their sister, Mrs. J. K. Carson, returned to their home at Kingsville Sunday. Mrs. E. K. Winsett returned to High Bridge Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Mary R. Bibb. Miss Maude Johnson, who has been visiting the Misses Bailey, returned to her home near Highland Monday. Misses Florence Tanner and Ethel Elliott returned to school at Lexington Wednesday. Dr. W. S. Beazley, our dentist, has returned from Crab Orchard, where he has been spending the holidays. J. P. Crow is at Lexington on business. J. Mc Hubble is spending a few days at Harrodsburg. Miss Etta Gooch entertained a few friends Friday evening in the shape of a candy pulling. It was a very enjoyable affair and will long be remembered by all present. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tanner also entertained a few friends. The following is a list of the young ladies and gentlemen present: Misses Lillian and Florence Tanner, Ethel Elliott and Lizzie Jones; Messrs. V. M. Tanner, E. L. Coffey, M. C. Tanner, C. L. Crow, J. B. Williams and R. W. Walker. Supper was served at 8 o'clock and at 10 o'clock a candy pulling was in order, which was enjoyed hugely by all.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Dr. Charles Markwell and Miss Ella Keene eloped from Versailles in a sleigh and were married at Lexington.

—Mr. T. J. Hatcher and wife have received an invitation to the marriage of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Lee, to Mr. E. M. Spinks, at Greenville, Tex.

—B. O. Gaines, editor of the Georgetown News, eloped to Covington with Miss Maud Reeder and was married. She is but 18 and quite a beauty.

—Rather than disappoint the woman he was to marry, William F. Power, of Maysville, crossed the Ohio river in a skiff, pulled through a mile of floating ice and kept his engagement. It took him over two hours to make the trip, which was a hazardous one.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If La Grippe has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts directly on the Liver, Stomach and Kidneys, gently aiding these organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with Sick Headache you will find speedy and permanent relief by taking Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Large bottles only 50c at A. R. Penny's drug store.

—The ice gorge at Cincinnati broke, and caused a loss in coal boats of $350,000.

DANVILLE.

—Mr. Felix Fox, of Kansas City, is here on a visit to old friends.

—The McGibeny Family will give one of their "unparalleled" concerts at the Opera House the 13th.

—Miss Mamie, daughter of Geo. S. Sander, of this county, died Monday morning at 5 o'clock after a long illness of consumption.

—An infant girl of Wm. Kelley, who lives near W. L. Caldwell's blacksmith shop, died Thursday evening and was buried Friday.

—Mrs. Robert Harding became ill at the Baptist church Sunday from the effects of a fall on the ice last Thursday, and had to be taken home in a rockaway.

—Miss Bettie Glick and Mr. D. H. Carroll were married at the residence of J. J. Rust on the Perryville pike Friday evening. Rev. E. M. Green performed the ceremony.

—W. L. Reed is very ill of pneumonia. Mr. A. H. Cheek, of the Citizens National Bank, fell on the ice Saturday and so badly hurt his back that he will be confined to his bed for several days.

—The colored boy, Bud Milligan, who was arrested in Lexington for robbing C. D. Portwood's store in this place, was brought before Judge McFerran Saturday, when he waived examination and was held for indictment by the grand jury, which meets here Monday, 16th.

—Mr. R. J. Rice, son of Mr. A. J. Rice of this vicinity, was shot through one of his lungs at Fort Worth, Texas, Friday morning. Particulars of the affair not known, but it is thought to have occurred in the line of his duty, as he was a deputy sheriff. His condition is reported as dangerous.

—Dr. E. R. Gaddie, a colored man who graduated at the Louisville National Medical College last April, has located in Danville for the practice of his profession. He was born in Elizabethtown and received his literary education in the public schools and the Baptist Institute of Louisville.

—Mr. W. R. Mock, of this county, whose illness has been noted, died Monday morning of pneumonia and brain trouble. He was thought to be recovering until Sunday when he became worse. Poor "Dolph" as his friends called him. No better hearted man ever lived or died. Peace to his ashes.

—Nearly all of Saturday was taken up by the trial before Judge McFerran and a jury of Sam Armstrong for a breach of the peace, committed by assaulting one Logan. The men quarreled; Logan called Armstrong a liar; Armstrong struck him and broke his arm. The legal gentlemen in charge of the case split hairs, wrangled and squabbled and orated with right smart forceful force, but when the jury finally got it, they brought in a verdict of one cent and costs for plaintiff. Armstrong's son, who was included in the warrant, was acquitted.

—October 16 last Dr. A. J. Tynan disappeared from his home in Mojesta, California. With the hope of finding him or learning something of his fate his family had a large number of photo. engravings of him, printed and sent all over the United States. One happened to reach Danville and was posted up in the office of the Clemens House, where Mrs. Thorel saw and recognized it as a picture of a friend of her youth, who attended college here. She does not remember whether he graduated or not but does remember that after he left college he studied medicine with Dr. Wm. Pawling and practiced for a time in Danville. He went to California with Nick Parr and others of Danville.

DESIRE.

O that my pen but held the power sublime
To trace in words of ringing, burning rhyme
Thoughts that would live throughout the length
Of time!

Thoughts that would cheer the ill of all mankind,
Turn back from wayward paths the erring blind,
And teach them duty's righteous way to find.

If I might know that e'en one groping heart
Should by a word of mine be moved to part
From sin, then would my soul in gladness start.

For when a darkness hovers o'er the land,
Bliss is the shadow of a helping hand,
Whether shown forth by words or actions grand.

Teach me, I pray, O Thou Infinite One,
How best this duty humbly may be done,
That life's great race by me be rightly run.

(Printed in loving memory of a devoted and true wife, from her own selections.)

For pains in the chest there is nothing better than a flannel cloth saturated with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound over the seat of pain. It will produce a counter irritation without blistering and is not so disagreeable as mustard; in fact is much superior to any plaster on account of its pain-relieving qualities. If used in time it will prevent pneumonia. 50-cent bottles for sale by W. B. McRoberts, druggist, Stanford, Ky.

La Grippe.

During the prevalence of the Grippe the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all the trouble and expense after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures, not only in cases of La Grippe, but in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free trial bottles at A. R. Penny's drug store.

—Dave Adams, son of one of the wealthiest farmers residing near Columbus, Ind., committed suicide because his wife had secured a divorce from him.

SAM JONES.

Gems From His Hopkinsville Sermons, as Reported by the Local Papers.

"I'm not old Brother Hayseed, out on his first trip, by a jugful."

"Some widows (?) with breeches on will talk about giving the widow's mite."

"All the profane old cussers needs to make him a dog is a little more hair and tail."

"If I was a woman I'd rather sleep with a wet dog than with an old whisky soak."

"I wouldn't give one prayer-meeting girl for all the girls that ever cut a pigeon wing."

"I'd steal, I'd steal, I'd steal before I'd sell whisky, or rent a house to sell in, or vote for it to be sold."

"I'd rather try to make a skunk stink by putting something on it than try to slander a saloon keeper."

"I wouldn't tolerate a man that sells whisky any more than I would a man who steals or commits rape."

"Some of you low down, stingy devils, worth $40,000, expect to get through this meeting on a nickel a day."

"A stingy man never made a decent steward, deacon or elder. I'd as soon preach to a billy goat as one of 'em."

"The man that belongs to the church and votes for whisky is the most damnable hypocrite that ever cursed the earth."

"They say Sam Jones preaches for money. Well, Hopkinsville is the last place this side of hell I'd come to preach for money."

"I'm told you have 46 saloons in Hopkinsville. With 46 saloons here there isn't room for a battercake between hell and Hopkinsville."

"Take the old sisters who go around chaperoning at balls. I tell you, old gals, the devil owns you body and soul. You are leading young girls to hell, you old chaperoners."

"Kentucky has such a name abroad for drinking that you can't find a dead man with a bottle in his pocket, anywhere in the country, but what the papers say next morning that 'A stranger from Kentucky was found dead last night.'"

"A first-class fool won't drink whisky, nor will a second or third-class fool. The men who drink whisky are away down in the scale of fools. Maybe some of you old red-nosed fools over there want to answer me. Well, get up and do it. When I let you go you'll hit the grit at a mile a minute gait; Nancy Hanks won't be in it."

"You damnable scoundrels, who voted whisky back, you've got to repeat it, or go to hell. One man makes it, another votes for its sale, another sells it, another dies a drunkard; God says, 'No drunkard shall enter the kingdom of Heaven'; God is just and will hold them all responsible. You are certainly going to hell unless you repent."

Do You Want a Public Office?

There are 180,000 offices within the gift of the new administration, and now is the time for those seeking public employment to take proper steps to secure one of these lucrative positions. All who are interested should at once send for a copy of the United States Blue Book. It is a register of all Federal offices and employments in each State and Territory, the District of Columbia and abroad, with their salaries, emoluments and duties; shows who is eligible for appointment, questions asked at examinations, how to make an application and how to push it to success, and gives besides a vast amount of important and valuable information relative to government positions never before published. Handsomely bound in cloth. Price 75 cents, post paid. Address J. H. Soule, Publisher, Washington, D. C.

MINSTRELS.—Sweeney, Alvino, Gorman and Goetz gave one of the best minstrel performances last night ever given at the opera house and the crowd enjoyed it immensely. The troupe is especially fortunate in its specialists. The clog drill, contortion act, the juggling and equilibrist's acts have never been excelled here and the comic boxing duel was execrably funny, keeping the house in a continual roar. It was a thoroughly good show all through.—Norfolk Virginian.

The success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in effecting a speedy cure of Croup, Whooping Cough has brought it into great demand. Messrs. Pontius & Son, of Cameron, Ohio, say that it has gained a reputation second to none in that vicinity. Jas. M. Queen, of Johnston, W. Va., says it is the best he ever used. R. F. Jones, druggist, Winona, Minn., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is perfectly reliable. I have always warranted it and it never failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50-cent bottles for sale by W. B. McRoberts, druggist, Stanford, Ky.

In buying a cough medicine for children, says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable." It is intended especially for Croup, Whooping Cough, 50-cent bottles for sale by W. B. McRoberts, druggist, Stanford, Ky.

—Once more that Chesapeake & Nashville road is to be built some more. The new projectors of this ancient enterprise propose to build an air-line, and past experience and present indications point strongly to the fact that that's just the kind of a line it will be.—Glasgow Times.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—The Record says there were 32 interments in the Lancaster cemetery last year.

—Rev. John Bell Gibson will not preach for the London church this year.

—Miss Mary Kirkpatrick, the daughter of H. J. Kirkpatrick, died of consumption Jan. 6, aged 16 years.

—Mrs. Marcus Helm died Friday at the home of Sam Briscoe, aged 79. She was an aunt of J. Warren Hocker, of this place.

—S. J. Popplewell, the well-known hotel keeper of Somerset, is dead. He was a Mason and Odd Fellow and stood well in his community.

—The wife of Rev. Charles Reid died in Colorado, where she went for her health and the remains were brought to Lancaster for interment. They had been married only a short time.

—William Ashley, of Boyle, was buried at McCormack's church Friday. He was an exemplary young man and a member of the Christian church. He had just reached his majority.

—Richard M. Dudley, D. D., president of Georgetown College, well-known throughout Kentucky and especially among the Baptists, died of a disease of the stomach at his home, aged about 52 years.

—The little boy of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Stagg, Jr., whose birth was noted in our last Tuesday's issue, died Sunday and its remains were placed in the vault yesterday to await a better time for final interment.

—George H. King, of Crab Orchard, died Friday in the asylum at Lexington where he had been for about three years. Mr. King was a prosperous farmer and stock trader, but his mind began to weaken about four years ago and when he was taken to the asylum he was a total wreck. He imagined himself very wealthy and would buy any and everything he came across. His remains were brought to Crab Orchard and buried in the cemetery Saturday afternoon. He leaves a wife and three children.

—Capt. John Shelton Hays died at the home of his niece, Mrs. John B. Foster, Sunday morning, aged nearly 70. He had become perfectly helpless and his death was caused by a general giving away of the vital forces. Capt. Hays was the second son of Mr. Hugh Hays, who in his day was one of the richest men in Lincoln county. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. John M. Reid with whom he made his home until recently. Some 18 months ago he professed religion and united with the Presbyterian church and those who talked with him are sure that he was an accepted child of God. His death was peaceful and among his last words were: "The Lord will take care of me." After a service at the Presbyterian church yesterday by Rev. Ben Helm, the remains were interred in Buffalo Cemetery.

THE LEGISLATURE.

—After hammering at it a year, the House has at last passed the bill for the pay of its employees. The regular clerks get $10; enrolling clerks $7; sergeants $7; door-keepers $5; assistant sergeants or janitors $5; cloak-room keepers $3.50; pages and messengers $3.

—It is to be hoped that the bill raising the petit larceny limit to $20 and leaving it with the jury to say whether the thief shall be punished on the rock pile or by the lash, will become a law. It would relieve the penitentiary and the whipping post would act as a scare crow.

—The Senate has passed this clause of the crimes bill: "Whoever shall, under promise of marriage, seduce and have carnal knowledge of any female under 16 years of age, shall be guilty of felony and upon conviction thereof shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than five years."

—At Whitehall, N. J., Nora Butt shot and killed Edward Smith to whom she was betrothed and then blew her own brains out.

—A Louisville servant girl was told to make a fig cake. Without letting her mistress know what she intended to do, the girl went and purchased some syrup of figs. She had an idea that the syrup would flavor the cake. All the members of the family partook of it and all pronounced it very good. An hour later the result can better be imagined than described.

—William Jones, who died at Hardwick's Creek recently, was about 60 years of age and weighed 60 pounds. His wife is about 52 years of age and weighs about 350 pounds, or nearly six times as much as her husband. The doors of a new residence had to be enlarged before she could enter.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
